 Water Protection Required!

THE SOUTHOLD LAND USE COMMITTEE OF THE NORTH FORK ENVIRONMENTAL COUNCIL

presents

*Let's Talk Water...
Can We Save What's Left?*

Friday, October 6, 2006

8 pm at Peconic Landing in Greenport

Did you know that according to the Environmental Protection Agency storm water pollution is the greatest threat to our nation's clean water? Here in Southold Town pesticides, lawn chemicals, septic tanks, road runoff and other contaminants are a threat to our fragile ecosystem.

Come and learn what Cornell Cooperative Extension, the Suffolk County Department of Health Services and the Suffolk County Water Authority, are doing – and what you can do – to safeguard our water.

THIS NFEC PROGRAM WILL FEATURE:

Mark Cappellino

Stormwater Educator, Marine Program, Cornell Cooperative Extension

Laura Bavaro

Senior Environmental Analyst, Peconic Estuary Program, Suffolk County Department of Health Services

Steven Jones

CEO, Suffolk County Water Authority

PLEASE RSVP TO THE NORTH FORK
ENVIRONMENTAL COUNCIL 631-298-8880
