

“Embrace What’s Left”

From ArtBeat, The Suffolk Times, June 7, 2007:

‘Embrace What’s Left’, a show involving 25 artists, supports the North Fork Environmental Council as it celebrates its 35th anniversary this year. Environmentally minded artists, poets and speakers will contribute to the show at Atelier Decorative and Fine Art Gallery on Main Street in Greenport. The show opens June 9.

The show offers “a fresh awareness of the fragility and strength of both humanity and nature”... During the show, educational materials about local organic farming, actions we can take to lessen our impact on the environment, and where there are parks and preserved land on the North Fork will be available.

The NFEC will receive a percentage of show sales and all auction proceeds for donated pieces. The auction is on June 30, but the gallery is accepting silent bids from the time the show begins.
